GONE!

At last, the good old days are gone;
The days, poets sang of in song,
The days, the fire-place reigned supreme.
The days, candles lit the festal scene.
Where the lamps used to be,
Electric lights now you see,
Every home should be made bright,
And we are here to give the light.

NINE CHIPPEWAS IN DANE COUNTY JAIL

Poor Lo Is Se v'ny Time For Smuggling
Bad Medicine on Flambeau
Reservation.

Nine Indians, accused of bringing liquor on the Lac du Flambeau reservation, were arrested there Friday by Deputy United States Marshall Appleby. In charge of Marshall Appleby and Chief of Police Straub, the band was taken to Madison, Saturday.

On Monday the Indians pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge Sanborn and received sentences to the Madison jail together with fines. Eight were given sixty days in jail and fined ten dollars each, and one was fined one hundred dollars and ninety days.

"Good" Indians Tell Officers For some time past, it is alleged, certain Indians from the reservation who have been on friendly terms with saloon keepers in the small towns north of here, have been purchasing and delivering alcohol to their brothers among the tribe. The Government officers have been maintaining a close watch on these violators and with the assistance of several "good" Indians were able to round up the guilty ones. Warrants were served on nine of the number by Marshall Appleby, Friday. Other arrests for the same offense will probably follow.

Make Many Threats Chief Straub says that while on the train to Madison the Indians displayed great anger toward those of the tribe who had informed on them. Several open threats were uttered and it is feared that when they have finished their sentences and returned to their wigwams there will be trouble on the reservation. "One young buck asked of Chief Straub, 'Who squeal on me, may be John?' When the Chief professed ignorance of the matter, the red skin replied, 'Ugh, I know it him, John, wait I fix him.'"

Gets Ninety Days The Tomahawk bar keeper, named King, who was unable to give bonds when arrested for selling liquor to Indians, was sentenced by Judge Sanborn to ninety days in the Madison jail, after he had entered a plea of guilty.

James Nages was taken to Madison Saturday and will spend the next five months behind the bars awaiting the action of the federal grand jury on his case. Nages was arrested last week for procuring liquor for Indians.

AUDITORS ON ALL TRAINS

Train auditors have been on duty on Northwestern passenger trains through Rhinelanders this week. It is reported that these auditors will hereafter take the place of conductors in collecting fares on all trains operated over the Northwestern system. This innovation, which was adopted by them some months ago, has proven so successful in trial that hereafter they will become established fixtures. The change is made for many reasons, the main one of which is to keep a closer tab upon the fares received.

The placing of auditors upon the trains was begun early last fall. At first they were run occasionally, but later the force has been increased, and now they will be used on every train. The conductor will retain the same duties as before, with the exception of collecting fares.

F. E. PARKER GIVES DINNER

The new Oneida restaurant on Davenport Street was the scene of feasting and merriment last evening when F. E. Parker entertained twelve of his gentlemen friends at dinner. The spread was prepared by Mrs. Horn and Miss Anderson in a tempting style, such as only these experienced cooks are capable. After the inner man had been satisfied the party indulged in stories and had a general good time. The occasion will linger long in the memories of those who were fortunate enough to be Mr. Parker's guests.

BOUND OVER FOR TRIAL

John Wilmut Must Answer to Charge of Murdering Liebel John Wilmut is being held in Forest county jail at Crandon awaiting trial at the next term of court on the charge of murdering Louis Liebel at Laona on Christmas.

The following concerning Wilmut's examination is taken from the Forest Republican.

District attorney G. H. Dawson appeared for the state and Judge J. A. Walsh for the defendant.

The evidence collected at the coroner's inquest held at Wabeno was presented, and Dr. John Dawley, who conducted the inquest, and Andrew Joergenson and Wm. Fuehrer, who witnessed the killing were also sworn and gave their evidence for the state. No evidence was submitted at this time by the defense, as is usual in cases of this character. The axe with which the killing was done was presented in evidence.

A peculiar circumstance of the case is that as yet no reason for the killing has been discovered. The district attorney made a determined effort to establish a cause but was not successful.

TRAIN SERVICE IS CRIPPLED BY STORM

No Traffic From South Last Friday—
F. Hirzy Is One of Many Belated
Passengers.

One of the worst blizzards in years passed over the southern part of the state last Thursday night and Friday. Fortunately the storm did not extend to the north and while the citizens of Rhinelanders and other northern Wisconsin cities were enjoying pleasant winter weather the people of Milwaukee and vicinity were suffering from the stinging blasts and snow.

Train, street railway and telegraph service was completely at a stand still all Thursday night and Friday. Freight trains were not run and all passenger trains out of Milwaukee became stalled in the huge drifts within short distances of that city. There was no mail from the south received in Rhinelanders last Friday.

On Stalled Train

F. Hirzy of this city was a passenger on one of the Northwestern trains which left Milwaukee last Thursday evening for the north. Within an hour after the train pulled out of the station it was in the grasp of the storm and unable to make further progress. Mr. Hirzy says that the wind was so strong that at times it was feared that the coaches would be toppled on their sides. The snow drifted into miniature mountains and soon reached the tops of the cars. In this predicament the passengers and crew spent the night. In the morning the blizzard was still raging. There was no food on the train and many of the ladies and children were becoming faint from hunger. Between the wild flurries of snow a farmhouse could be seen in the distance and two men volunteered to go there in quest of food. After a long and tedious journey they returned with a basket of provisions which was given to the mothers and little ones. It was not until late Friday that a relief train came to the rescue of the belated passengers. At the next station the famished crowd was furnished with coffee and sandwiches at the expense of the railway company.

HARVEY HANSON MARRIED

Miss Tehkla Rex and Harvey E. Hanson were united in marriage last Sunday at the bride's home at Oconto. They will reside at Antigo where the groom is manager of the Palace Theatre.

Mr. Hanson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hanson of this city and has a large circle of friends here who wish him and his bride a happy future.

WM. LIGHTNER IS KILLED

Word received in the city today noon states that William Lightner, brother-in-law of Louis Peety of this city, was killed this morning at Hazelhurst. Mr. Lightner was a locomotive engineer and the accident probably occurred on the railroad. Particulars can not be obtained at this time.

TWO FIREMEN MEET FATE IN COLLISION

Northwestern Freight Trains Clash On Curve—Three Engines Are Demolished.

One of the most disastrous train wrecks in the history of the Ashland division of the Northwestern road occurred early last Friday morning at a point between Lac du Flambeau and Woodruff. Two freight trains running at full speed met in head-on collision resulting in the death of two firemen, Geo. Hercher and Albert Knowlton, and the total demolition of three locomotives and several cars. Engineers Mahard and Schmidt were injured, although not seriously.

Meet On Curve.

The north bound train No. 159 was being pulled by two engines and was in charge of Conductor Jeff Lynde and engineers, Mahard and Barr. Hercher and Knowlton were the firemen. Number 280, the train going south, was in charge of Conductor John Romles and Engineer Schmidt.

The trains came together on a sharp curve at about one mile north of a small siding known as Bolton. The cause of the collision is said to be due to carelessness on the part of the crew of 159 in obeying orders. This train had orders to meet the south bound freight at Bolton but instead pulled swiftly passed the siding. The trains met so suddenly that the men on the engines had no time to jump. Firemen Hercher and Knowlton were instantly killed and their bodies were buried under the wreckage. The corpses were not found until late Friday forenoon.

Impact Is Terrific

The impact of the three locomotives was something terrific and it seems strange that more men were not killed or severely hurt. The injuries sustained by Mahard and Schmidt, the engineers, were not of a dangerous nature.

People who visited the scene say that the wreckage was piled over thirty feet high and the engines and cars rendered a mass of twisted iron and steel fit only for the scrap pile. The three engines were crushed into a heap of junk occupying a space but twenty feet in length.

Bear Charmed Lives

The engine men who escaped are of the opinion that they bear charmed lives. One of the engineers was looking at his watch when the collision came and when picked up in a dazed condition a few minutes later he still had the time-piece clasped firmly in his hand. Another engineer had his hand on the lever when the crash occurred. Although the whole cab was splintered into kindling wood and the lever bent and twisted, the man never received a scratch. Three men were hurled through the air many feet from the wreck.

A special train bearing physicians from this city was hurried to the wreck, but their services were only slightly needed. Mahard and Schmidt were removed to their homes at Antigo.

The bodies of the two unfortunate firemen were taken to Ironwood, where they were prepared for burial. Hercher's home was at Neenah and Knowlton resided at Antigo. Each was about thirty years of age. The latter was married.

Use Watersmeet Branch

Wrecking crews were sent to the wreck from Antigo and Ironwood and the track was cleared for traffic late Friday afternoon. In the meanwhile all north and south bound passenger trains were forced to run over the line from Ironwood to Watersmeet and Monico. Scoot trains carrying mail and passengers were put in service from Monico to Bolton and from Bolton to Ironwood.

DR. LEINFELDER IMPROVING

Rev. Dr. Leinfelder, pastor of St. Mary's Church, who has been ill at the parsonage for the last two months, spent a part of last Friday afternoon on a sleigh ride about the city. He is feeling considerably improved in health which is glad news to the reverend gentleman's host of friends. He may depart later in the year on a trip south where he expects to fully recuperate.

PLAY THREE GAMES.

Large Crowd Attends the Basket Ball Tournament.

There was a large attendance at the High school basket ball tournament held at the Armory last Friday evening.

Three games were played between teams representing the High school. The Freshman-Sophomore contest resulted in a defeat for the Freshies by a score of 29 to 1. The first year boys had an attack of stage fright and did not make their usual showing. In a practice game a few days previous they tied the Sophomores.

The first and second teams put up an exhibition marked for its slowness and roughness. Neither sides displayed much skill with the ball.

What proved the feature of the evening was the game between the girls' teams. The players were somewhat handicapped, however, by being obliged to play girls' rules after having been used to boys' rules. It was very tantalizing for them to be compelled to remain back of the line with the ball just out of reach. Frequently some of them were unable to restrain themselves and rushed over the line only to be squelched by the referee who would call a foul on them.

The spectators were well satisfied with the games. Financially, the tournament was also a success.

CHIEF STRAUB NABS UNCLE SAM'S AGENTS

Secret Service Men In Disguise Are Taken For Vags by Rhinelanders
Officer.

While other cities in the state are complaining of the tramp nuisance, Rhinelanders is entirely free from this type of gentry. This is somewhat strange too, when it is considered that the city maintains no rock pile to strike fear to the hearts of the wanderers. One would naturally think that Rhinelanders would be a delightful haven for tramps, and such would no doubt be the case if the police were not so strict in keeping them out of the city.

Taken For Vagrants

Last fall two tough looking characters, who claimed to be telephone line men out of employment, drifted into this city. They spent nearly all their time in saloons and as their actions didn't make a "hit" with Chief Straub that officer ordered them to seek newer fields. Upon their refusal to obey instructions the Chief placed them under arrest as vagrants. When hearing the little stone fall near the Davenport bridge, the two prisoners pleaded so touchingly for their liberty that the Chief released them upon their promise to leave town immediately.

Here is the funny sequel to the incident. It recently developed that the two "broken down telephone men" were government secret service agents here on official duty. In a report of their experience to their captain they praised Chief Straub as a most efficient police officer.

FEARS QUARANTINE RULES

One Family Causes Several Cases of Scarlet Fever

The development of new cases of scarlet fever on the West Side, 14 due, it is said, to the carelessness of a family residing there that fail to report the disease to the health authorities.

One of the children became ill with the fever but fearing quarantine restrictions the parents did not call a physician. The members visited back and forth among the neighbors, scattering the disease throughout that part of the city. Several little children are now sick. Their parents, surmising the source from which the disease originated, are very indignant over the matter. The health officers will investigate the story and prosecute the careless ones if the facts warrant such. One doctor says he has heard of instances where the inmates of quarantined homes have disobeyed regulations and sneaked out for walks and friendly calls under cover of darkness. Such violations are sure to result in the spread of scarlet fever or any other contagious sickness.

SUSPECT IS ARRESTED

After a thorough search throughout this part of the state for Sylvester McAvoy, a murder suspect, the police of Ladysmith have at last arrested the man at Ashland.

McAvoy is charged with killing a woodsman near Ladysmith on October 7, last. Soon after the crime he disappeared and this with other circumstances lead the authorities to believe him responsible for the murder.

For a time last fall the police of Rhinelander were on the look-out for the suspect and every train was closely watched in the belief that he might come to this city. It develops, however, that since the 16th day of October, McAvoy has lived at an Ashland hotel.

President Taft says the states must take more active steps in the conservation of forests and water power. In the eyes of some of our local promoters, Mr. Taft will now be classed as a "pin head."

When men who employ labor stop to tell of the wages they pay, in comparison with a few years ago, do they realize what the recent high tariff has done to increase the cost of living? Perhaps those very men are in full sympathy with the exorbitant tariff to feather their own nests.

It is understood among all men at Washington that Speaker Cannon must get down and out at the end of this term. The sooner it is known among the people the better it will be for the republican party. If something is not done before the election of members for the next house of representatives, we believe the democrats will be in the majority and the republicans will not have the right to choose a speaker.

GAYNOR IGNORES POLITICIANS

William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, is setting the people of that city an example an upright executive may be proud of. He is making his appointments solely on the merit and shattering the Tammany machine. Everybody except Tammany is praising the new mayor's appointments. He could not have made better selections. They are business men. They do not belong to any machine and only a couple of them active politicians.

In appointing Thomas Higgins commissioner of parks, he said, I trust you will accept for a thorough reform of that office. I find it has been a custom for every person who works in the parks to join a political club and pay an assessment. Let all that be stopped immediately. When that letter was published, it stirred the tammany tigers but a sigh of relief went up among the park laborers. No matter from what party good comes, let's praise it and help on the good work.

Gaynor as mayor of New York is refreshing.

By the extraordinary amount of time and attention Mr. Taft is devoting to the small band of Republican Insurgents, he is likely to create the impression that he is more afraid of them than any one had believed.—N. Y. World.

Mr. Dahl denies that he ever solicited like to put up a quarter of a million for presidential campaign purposes when the aged millionaire was posing as a Progressive. The denial is quite unnecessary. It's against like's principles to give money away in big chunks when he is not engaged in organizing the voters on his own hook.—Milwaukee Journal.

Miss Marjorie Gould, the beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Gould, is to be the wife of Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Spurring the courtship of princes and the lure of coronets, she has bestowed her heart on an American and the vast fortunes that both will inherit are to remain on this side of the Atlantic.

Beaux of many lands, possessing names centuries old and great wealth have paid court to Miss Marjorie Gould.

It is evident the notoriety of her aunt has been distasteful to Miss Gould.

The denial of Walsh's petition by the Supreme court of the United States closes the last chapter of the history of the long fight for freedom. The convicted banker is now powerless to proceed further in his efforts to escape the prison bars. The one time bank president and railroad financier who is now 72 years old will be placed in federal prison, Fort Leavenworth, where he will begin the sentence of five years imposed upon him by United States District Judge Anderson on March 2, 1903.

WHY DO MEN ADVERTISE?

The man who conducts his business on the theory that it doesn't pay and he can't afford to advertise, sets up his judgment in opposition to that of all the best business men in the world. Says an experienced advertising authority: "With a few years' experience in conducting a small business on a few thousand of capitals, he assumes to know more than thousands whose hourly transactions aggregate more than his do in a year, and who have made their millions by pursuing a course that he says doesn't pay."

If advertising doesn't pay, why is it that the most successful merchants of every town, large or small, are the ones, who do the most business? If it does not pay, business firms in the world spend millions in that way. Is it because they want to donate those millions to the newspapers and magazine publishers, or because they don't know as much about business as the six-for-a-dollar merchant who says money spent in advertising is thrown away or donated to the man to whom it is paid?

Such talk is simply ridiculous, and it requires more than the average patience to discuss the proposition of whether advertising pays or not with that kind of a man. His complacent self-conceit is assuming that he knows more than the whole world is laughable, and reminds us of the man who proved that the world doesn't revolve by placing a pumpkin on a stump and watching it all night.—Hurley Miner.

PRAISES INSURGENCY

There is a class of people who still persists that insurgency is short lived. What insurgency has accomplished in a short time and its future hope is well expressed by John Temple Graves.

"What is the fruitage of insurgency? What has the movement done to justify the interest and discussion which it has evoked? Has this brilliant and picturesque group of statesmen in Senate and House, which has lent nearly all the color and glow to Congressional affairs during the year behind us been a mere spectacle, a passing show of oratory and political pugnacity, or has it done things that make progress and affect the future?

I am inclined to rate the work of the insurgents highly. I think they have done good and durable service to the country and the times, and that their work will live after them. There are several notable facts about these independent men:

They have been always frank. They have been perfectly fearless. They have not been intimidated or coerced from first to last.

They have steadily increased in members and influence from the beginning.

They are many degrees stronger and more influential in national affairs than at the close of the last session.

The recent stormy events at Washington, the patronage of Postmaster General Hitchcock, the threat of excommunication from the party, the assault upon Cannon and the final collapse of that man of straw—all these things more or less have placed the insurgents, with their brains and their energies, with their courage and their resolution, on a varied and striking background.

Says Insurgents are on Top

And now that they have won all along the line, with Cannonism destroyed or facing certain destruction, with their patronage restored, and with the President marching out into the open with a refusal to excommunicate or condemn them—why, now the insurgents are on top. They have established the glory of independence. They have conquered the right for themselves and others to insurgence, and henceforth men of clear convictions, with brains and courage to back them, can and will vote as they please, in or out of Congress, with none to molest or make them afraid.

Isn't that a mighty achievement for a minority group to trace out

A BILL BY MORSE

Granting unsurveyed and unattached islands to the State of Wisconsin for forestry purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby, directed to cause patents to issue to the state of Wisconsin for the unsurveyed and unattached islands in inland lakes north of the township line between townships thirty-three and thirty-four north, fourth principal meridian, as additions to the state forest reserves. The islands hereby granted shall be used as additions to the forest reserves only, and should the State of Wisconsin abandon the use of said islands for such purpose, alienate or attempt to alienate or use the same or any part thereof for purposes other than that for which granted, the same shall revert to the United States.

CATARRH IN HEAD.

Per-na—Per-na.

MR. WM. A. PRESSER.

MR. WILLIAM A. PRESSER, 1723 Third Ave., Moline, Ill., writes: "I have been suffering from catarrh in the head for the past two months and tried innumerable so-called remedies without avail. No one knows how I have suffered, not only from the disease itself, but from mortification when in company of friends or strangers. "I have used two bottles of your medicine for a short time only, and it effected a complete medical cure, and what is better yet, the disease has not returned. "I can most emphatically recommend Per-na to all sufferers from this disease."

Read This Experience.

Mr. A. Thompson, Box 65, R. R. 1, Martel, Ohio, writes: "When I began your treatment my eyes were inflamed, nose was stopped up half of the time, and was sore and scabby. I could not rest at night on account of continual hawking and spitting. "I had tried several remedies and was about to give up, but thought I would try Per-na. "After I had taken about one-third of a bottle I noticed a difference. I am now completely cured, after suffering with catarrh for eighteen years. "I think if those who are afflicted with catarrh would try Per-na they would never regret it."

MILLIONS OF ACRES SUITABLE FOR FARMS

Badger State Has Large Tracts of Unoccupied Land Fit for Cultivation.

The homeseeker of to-day is not without his troubles. The lightning rod and patent churn man has had to give way to the farm-land promoter, and the public press is now so full of "best opportunities" that the homeseeker's door is constantly being rapped upon by that magnificent benefactor, Opportunity.

Not long ago the homeseeker had only to go to the margin of settlements and proceed to place under cultivation the first piece of vacant land to be found. No special training or peculiar methods were necessary. To-day he hears of little but irrigation, dry farming and regeneration of depleted soils, with their multitude of problems, to meet which he must be a student and experimenter—likewise owner of a bank account.

The homeseeking public will be interested in the fact that the State of Wisconsin yet has about 10,000,000 acres of unoccupied farm lands in the counties of the northern half of the state. These lands are, in the main, a rich clay loam soil based upon clay subsoil. Some stretches are sandy loam of a very productive quality. These areas are mostly gently undulating, well drained by many well-embedded rapid streams—water-power rivers that assure an active industrial future, with numerous cities and towns throughout the area.

The country is specially suited to dairying and stockraising, which are now the principal industries, but all small grains and the earlier dent corn produce handsomely. The country is especially noted for its marvellous clover pastures and meadows, which, with healthful climate and pure water, complete the dairy requirements. There are already settlements at each of the towns on the many railway lines that traverse the whole area. The clovers do not winter-kill.

Clover seed is becoming a popular crop and yields handsomely. Sugar beets of the largest yield and finest quality are grown for two factories. Cigar tobacco of fine quality and large quantity is grown in several sections. Peas are grown for many factories with handsome results. Apples, plums, cherries and small fruits are grown in considerable quantities in certain parts of this area. Potatoes are becoming a leading money crop and from many sections they are shipped South for seed.

An exhibit taken from this area of only partially settled lands to the 1909 Illinois State Fair received a blue ribbon on clovers, timothy, potatoes and apples.

The rainfall in this section ranges around thirty-five inches, distributed approximately as follows: Winter, four and one-half inches; spring, eleven inches; summer, twelve inches; fall, seven inches. It will be seen that this rainfall is distributed in a manner calculated to produce maximum crops and to maintain a long pasture season.

The lands are cut-over hardwood timber lands, from which the large timber has been removed. The small timber remaining had an active market for fuel and pulpwood and affords employment in the winter. There are scores of manufacturing cities and towns on the many railways traversing this area, around which settlements are rapidly taking place. Lands two to five miles from these towns may be obtained at $10 to $15 per acre, and when improved are worth $30 to $100 per acre.

To clear up this land and put it to use no expert knowledge is called for. The best pastures are secured by harrowing and seeding to clover. These pastures continue for many years and outlast the hardwood stumps. The removal of the stumps is speedily effected by modern machinery.

The State Board of Immigration, consisting of James A. Frear, Secretary of State; H. L. Russell, dean of the College of Agriculture, and Geo. McKerron, president of the State Board of Agriculture, was established to call attention of the homeseeking public to Wisconsin's vacant lands.

MINE IS DYNAMITED

The dry house at No. 1 shaft of the Windsor mine of the Odanah Mining Company, one mile west of Hurley was dynamited Monday, and O. Laris was killed, Henry Grover, mine boss, and Capt. Camello seriously injured and four Polish miners were more or less badly hurt.

Fourteen sticks of dynamite with the fuse partly burned were found. Ten sticks were discovered in the shaft at the second level. Had the explosion taken place ten minutes earlier, one hundred men would have been caught in the building.

GOES TO HER REWARD.

Death Ends Long Suffering of Mrs. Willard Boyce.

Death came to Mrs. Willard Boyce at the residence on Clark street at a late hour last Friday night. She had long been in ill health and since previous to the holidays had been in a critical condition. Although for several weeks her family and friends realized that the end was near, her taking away came as a sad shock to all.

Mrs. Lillian Wilcox Boyce was born January 31, 1861 at Corinth, N. Y., where she spent her girlhood. On the 23 of March 1883 she became the wife of Willard Boyce. To them three children were born, one of whom, a boy, died when an infant. A daughter, Marie, and son, Edward, are left to mourn with the sorrowing father.

Mrs. Boyce possessed a loving and sunny disposition which endeared her to the hearts of her friends. She was an ardent member of the Methodist Episcopal faith and an active worker in the church. As a member of the Eastern Stars she took deep interest in lodge affairs and was prominent in social circles. At home she was a devoted wife and mother, having always at heart the welfare of her family, and willing to make any sacrifice for their joys and comfort. Her loss will be forever felt by the father and children; the once happy home is now velled in darkness.

The funeral was held from the residence at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. Members of the Eastern Stars and Masonic lodges attended the services in a body. Rev. Ludwig, the officiating clergyman, spoke feelingly of the deceased, expressing many beautiful sentiments on her life. His text was chosen from first Cor. 15th Chpt. 57th and 58th verses.

"Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, for as much as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." The quartette sang several of Mrs. Boyce's favorite hymns. The floral designs which covered the casket were mute tokens of the high regard in which the lady was held by her friends and neighbors.

The Masonic lodge escorted the remains to Forest Home cemetery.

HIS ARM WAS BROKEN

Ignorant of the fact that he had broken his arm, Gaylord Greenshield, a young man of this city, neglected for several days to have the injury dressed by a physician.

Young Greenshield is employed in the paper mill yards and while unloading logs over a week ago his right arm was pinched between two of the heavy timbers. At the time he did not consider the hurt serious but as the days went by the pain became more intense and last Tuesday he decided to see a physician.

Dr. Stone upon examining the arm found that the bone had been broken.

DEATH OF MRS. M. JANSEN

Mrs. M. Jansen, mother of Mrs. A. Rheauque of this city, died on Wednesday of last week at her home at Marinette. She is survived by seven children four of whom were at her bedside when the end came. The funeral was held Friday morning from St. Joseph's Church, Marinette. Requiem mass was said.

Mrs. Jansen had frequently visited her daughter in this city where she leaves many friends.

FROM NEARBY TOWNS

Hurley—Chas. Nyman, aged 21 years, lost his life in a fire which destroyed five business buildings at Pence. The blaze started in the Norwegian saloon where Nyman, in an intoxicated state, was seen to enter a short time previous. He may have carelessly thrown a lighted match on the floor or knocked over a lamp. The loss on the buildings and stock destroyed is heavy and little insurance was carried.

Crandon—After imposing a fine of $25 on "Broadface" an Indian, who pleaded guilty to killing deer out of season, the court suspended sentence on him upon his promise to be good in the future. "Broadface" has a squaw and two little ones who live near this city and to have sent the father to jail would have meant suffering to the family.

Marinette—The trial of former Sheriff Joseph N. Seibel, now field agent for the state board of control, in the Marinette county court on the charge of having solicited a bribe while acting as sheriff, resulted in an acquittal. The case is the second in which Mr. Seibel has figured as defendant and he has been acquitted of both charges. One case is still pending against him but it is understood that this may be nolleed at the present term.

Wausau—In an attempt to start the gasoline engine used in operating the log roller at one of Barker & Stewart's camps, Chas. Bushburger and James Wilcox received serious injuries, the tank exploding. The cause of the explosion is attributed to the fact that the men were trying to heat the cylinder of the engine which was "buckling" with torches of waste saturated in oil, and in some manner the flames reached the gasoline tank.

Clintonville—The Clintonville Mutual Fire Insurance Company and the Shawano Mutual Fire Insurance Company have consolidated. The new company begins the year with 1000 policy holders, having at the present time 967 policies and $625,823.93 in force.

Marshfield—Two Indians arrested here for being drunk, refused to divulge the name of the party who sold them the liquor. For two days the officers rigidly questioned the pair in an effort to learn where they acquired their "jag," but the Indians positively declined to make a confession and were finally given their liberty. Mayor Connor says that hereafter all liquor dealers who violate the law will immediately have their licenses revoked.

Tomahawk—While driving near this city G. R. DeLand found two quails in the middle of the road. One of the birds was dead from the cold and the other was partly frozen. Mr. DeLand placed the live bird in the pocket of his fur coat and brought it to town where it was placed in a coop with a lot of chickens. The quail is growing fat and seems to enjoy the company of the domestic fowls.

Ladysmith—The automobile owners of this city have organized a body to be known as the Rusk County Auto Club. The club has for its purpose the promotion of good roads and the mutual protection of the rights of motorists and teamsters. E. M. Worden is president, T. M. Thomas, secretary, H. W. True, treasurer.

Ironwood—The efforts of two representatives of the Western Federation of Miners to organize a branch of the Federation in the city proved of no avail. The miners are perfectly satisfied with their wages and the present labor conditions and will not become members of the organization.

Merrill—For failure to provide for the support of his family, Alvah Cash, of Tomahawk, was sentenced by Judge Porter to eight months in the state prison at Waupun, the fifth day to be in solitary confinement. Cash has served several terms in the county jail for drunkenness.

Washburn—The annual report of D. W. Corning, customs officer, shows an increase in tonnage at this port of about 19,000 tons over that of the previous year. The increase on coal was 12,000 tons. In 1908, 4,855,000 feet of lumber was shipped and shipment in 1909, was 17,000,000 feet. Logs to the amount of 40,000,000 feet were received. The comparison of value of receipts and shipments in the two years shows a difference of $789,289 in favor of 1909.

New London—A gang of young boys whose ages range from twelve to fourteen years has been arrested for several thefts in stores of this city. The lads were told in their operations and stole articles of merchandise in the presence of young companions. They will probably be sentenced to the state reform school.

A fine pair of hose will be given free with each pair of shoes purchased at Kolden's store this month.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Catholics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels. If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called REXALL Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person. They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 26 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store.—The REXALL Store. J. J. Reardon, Rhinelander, Wis.

MANY TREATS FOR FARMERS IN COURSE AT MADISON

"Milk, Its Production and Use" represents the special feature of the farmers' course at the University of Wisconsin this year, and many of the addresses will develop various important subjects in connection with the dairy industry. The ventilation of buildings, feeding of cows, control of tuberculosis, relation of dairying to the soil fertility, and business methods on the dairy farm will be considered.

The lectures on general farming will not be omitted, however, and grains and forage crops, horticulture, live stock breeding, feeding and judging soil fertility and drainage will be treated. An examination for testing cattle for tuberculosis will be held Feb. 15 under the direction of Dr. D. B. Clark, state veterinarian, who will furnish particulars to those interested.

Several lectures on tuberculosis and a post-mortem demonstration on Feb. 16 will be conducted by Dean Russell and Dr. Clark. Aside from the numerous strong addresses to be delivered by the members of the staff of the agricultural college, other speakers will be Joseph E. Wing, Chicago; Prof. T. L. Hecker, University of Minnesota; S. A. Knapp, United States Department of Agriculture; F. R. Crane, Dunn County School of Agriculture; and Dr. C. G. Hopkins, University of Illinois.

An evening session of more than ordinary interest will be held on Friday, Feb. 11, when the recognition exercises will be held and appropriate testimonials granted to persons who have rendered eminent service in the development of the highest type of agriculture which the country affords. At this meeting an address on "Education for the Farm Boy" will be delivered by L. A. Harvey, Stout Institute, Menomonie.

Cured of a Severe Attack of Bronchitis by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"On October 15th, last, my little three year old daughter contracted a severe cold which resulted in a bad case of bronchitis," says Mrs. W. G. Gibson, Lexington, Ky. "She lost the power of speech completely and was a very sick child. Fortunately we had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and gave it to her according to the printed directions. On the second day she was a great deal better, and on the fifth day, October 23rd, she was entirely well of her cold and bronchitis, which I attribute to this splendid medicine. I recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy unreservedly as I have found it the surest, safest and quickest cure for colds, both for children and adults of any I have ever used." For sale by F. L. Hinman & Co.

FATHER 80-MOTHER 76

The aged father and mother of a prominent Boston lawyer safely carried through the last two winters by

Vinol

The son says: "My father and mother owe their present strength and good health to Vinol. During the last two trying winters neither of them had a cold, and were able to walk farther and do more than for years. I think Vinol is perfectly wonderful. It certainly is the greatest blood-making, strengthening tonic for old people I ever heard of."

We want every feeble old person in this town to try Vinol. We will return their money without question if it does not accomplish all we claim for it.

A large crew of carpenters were at work yesterday changing and putting in large windows in the Fred Lange building, occupied by the Bank of Minocqua and Lange's tailor shop. It will make a great improvement in the appearance of the building and give the occupants a much better light.
Mrs. Wm. Johnston returned from Ashland last Saturday where she had been with her daughter Laura who has been at the hospital at that place since January 1st. Mrs. Johnston reports that Miss Laura underwent a successful operation last Thursday for appendicitis and is getting along nicely.
There seems to be a general feeling of satisfaction regarding the taxes this year. The taxpayers appreciate the reduction of 2 per cent. If they would make it a point to be present each year when the appropriations are voted and see that the money raised is kept down to the lowest possible amount for the necessary running expenses of our town, they will have occasion to rejoice at tax paying time each year.

A TRAVELING SALESMAN
H. F. Beers, 617-7th Ave., Peoria, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled for some time with kidney trouble, so severely at times I could scarcely carry my grips. According to the census just completed by Secretary John M. True, of the state board of agriculture, there are in Wisconsin 1,259,231 milk cows of all varieties. This number is 125,831 more than shown by the statistics compiled by Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery. Mr. Emery, however took into consideration only the cows contributing to cheese factories, creameries, skim stations and condenseries, and there are many cows in the state that do not come under this class.
The national department of agriculture credits the Badger state with 1,500,000.

A fine pair of hose will be given free with each pair of shoes purchased at Kolden's store this month.

THE MIRROR BABY WAS CRYING
And That Seemed to Have the Desirable Reforming Effect on the Real Child.
"It cannot be a new way to attempt to quiet a crying baby," said the young man, who couldn't be expected to know a great deal about children, "but it certainly was effective."

"The child was sitting up in a carriage red faced and bawling, with its mouth wide open and tears streaming out of the corners of its eyes. The nurse was making unavailing efforts to quiet the infant as she wheeled it along."

At a corner there was a store that had a square post in one corner of the show window. The sides of the post were covered with looking glass. "The nurse wheeled the carriage up close to the window and the baby, still howling, got a glimpse of the image of its angry faced, wailing self in the looking glass. The effect was marvellous. The child stopped crying at once and surveyed the glass with an air almost of being ashamed. Then it broke into a smile, and when the looking glass child also laughed it waved a tiny mitted fist and was borne away, chuckling."

"This, of course, can be explained on scientific grounds as being only a manifestation of curiosity on the part of the child, but the suddenness of the reform instituted by the mirror was impressive to those who saw it."

EXERCISED SENSE OF HUMOR
How Miss Cartright's Favorite Nephew Carried Out Her Instructions as to Mail.
"Why won't my folks remember to address my letters as I've told them to? I've written repeatedly to tell them how my mail gets all mixed up with that of those Cartrights in the village, and yet they forget."
Thereupon Miss Cartright sat down at her desk and wrote several emphatic postal cards—being quite at the end of patience, and having had trouble with her mail ever since she rented this place north of Croton.
A few days later she received the following letter from her favorite nephew, Bob:
"Dear Aunt Betty:—Having, had from you a Roasting, Furious, Dictatorial communication, I—a youth ordinarily Radiant, Facetious, Debonair—have suddenly become Rueful, Flustered, Despondent."
"After Ransacking Forty Dictionaries in vain search for light on the cryptic signs, I nevertheless bow meekly to your stern command—at least I do so on the inside of the letter as you can see for yourself. But to a Rational Fellow, Deliberating profoundly, only one way, alas! suggests itself of working 'em in on the outside."
"You yourself brought me up to thirst after Reasons For Doctrines, so, for goodness' sake, let me know by return mail why on earth you insist upon my inscribing cabalistic initials on your mail matter. Yours, Robert—Flabbergasted, but devoted still."

Turning hastily to examine Bob's envelope, Miss Cartright saw why the postman had been so "queer" this morning. He had handed out her mail, his face all in a broad grin, and had remarked, as he drove off: "I s'pose the original old Rural Free Delivery puts up here, don't he?"
Bob's letter was addressed to Miss Elizabeth Cartright—"In the care of the Hon. R. F. D. Esq."—Youth's Companion.

LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT
Man Who Minimizes Importance of Trifles Makes Life a Burden to His Wife.

It is the little things that do matter—to a woman, a man would say. Little thinking how greatly he himself is influenced by the trifles he despises. If the dinner is late, or his cuffs are frayed, if his wife has forgotten to tidy her hair, or she is not ready at the time appointed, he is distinctly ruffled; the fire is laid ready for the blaze—it may be in business that the match is applied or it may be at home; it matters not where, the results are disastrous, and the little thing is responsible.

Home life is made up of little things, but unfortunately the man does not realize it. He little thinks how wearying are the little things, and he has no compunction in adding to them. He does not know how much it means to the tired housewife if he even stoops to put coals on the fire, if he puts away his slippers himself, if he does not leave cigar ends in every available spot. But he is so occupied with the big things that unless he has been trained to be thoughtful he makes life a burden to the woman he has promised to cherish.
To the woman who lives among the little things they matter intensely. It is bitter to hear that he forgets the anniversary of their wedding, that he lets her birthday pass, as the dear ones at home never did; that he seldom thinks of giving her a present or suggesting an outing; that he does not even pass the salt at the table, nor open the door for her to go out. It is the little things which build up the barrier between husband and wife.

SOME LOGIC IN COMPLAINT
Cook's Demand for More Money Seems Reasonable, When You Think About It.

Cindy was an old, black southern "mammy," with all the lovable traits and inconsistencies of her kind. For many years she was cook in the Warren family, and gave faithful and satisfactory service.
One summer the entire family was away for two months, and Mr. Warren gave Cindy a real vacation by paying her full wages for that time and giving her the keys to the well-stocked storeroom.

A few days after the return of the family Cindy came bustling into Mrs. Warren's sitting room.
"I want's mo' wages," she announced.
"Why, Cindy," exclaimed the surprised mistress, "you are getting better pay than any cook I know of in a family the size of ours, you have a nice, comfortable room and good treatment. Think how kind it was of Mr. Warren to give you a long vacation with your full wages."

"Dat's it," grumbled Cindy. "Mr. Warren paid me dat money fur doin' nuthin'. An' now all you folks is come back fur me to cook fur an' wait on. An' I gits more money or I leaves."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Rabbits in Australia.
Some one has calculated that the rabbits in Australia must reach the number of 1,000,000,000,000. But of course there is no means of taking a census; the calculation is largely guesswork, its foundation being a rough numbering of the rabbits to be found in an acre of country and multiplying that by the number of rabbit infested acres.
